What's Up @ KPIT

Blossoming KPIT updates are coming your way!

May 20th, 2023

We celebrated #MothersReimaginingMobility across the globe!

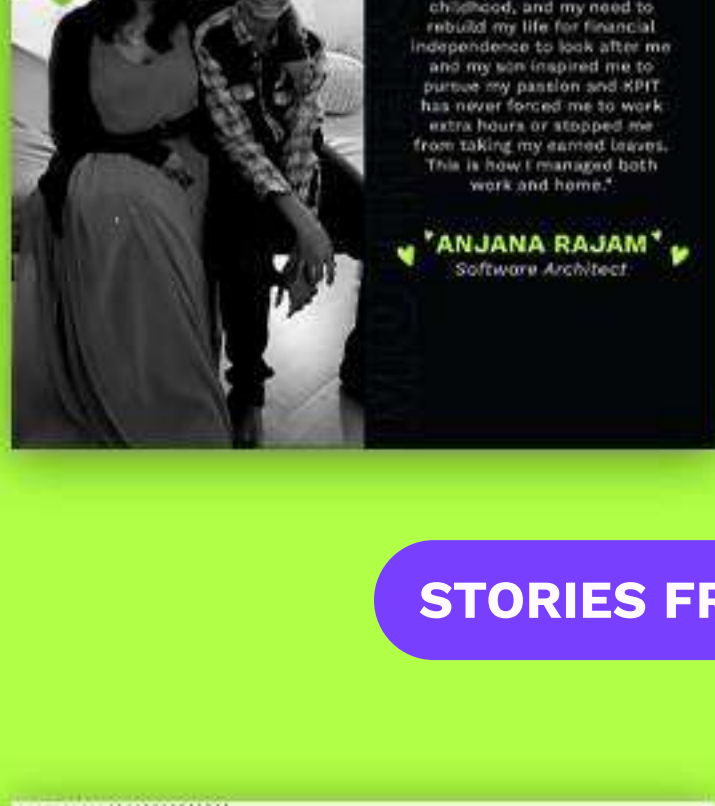

“I started out of school & have spent 90% of my career in automotive, electric vehicle and the commercial vehicle market. I have always worked in new technology.”
Jayne Merryman,
Account Director,
KPIT (US)

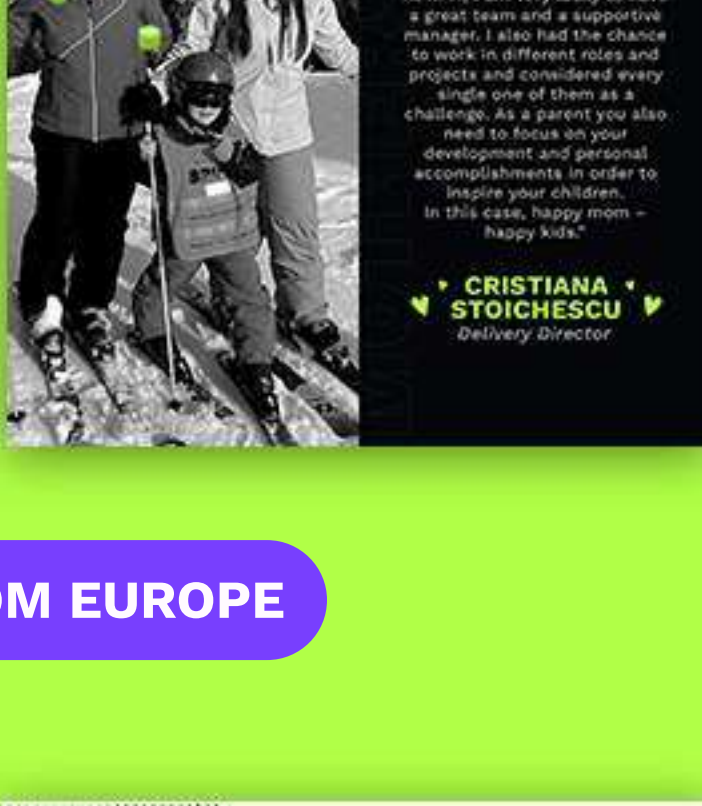

“My manager as well as all others around me were always very supportive and enabled flexible schedules when required. I also established the trust by completing or exceeding my work commitments always.”
Priya Bhat,
VP - Strategic Relationships, KPIT (US)

TALES FROM THE AMERICAS

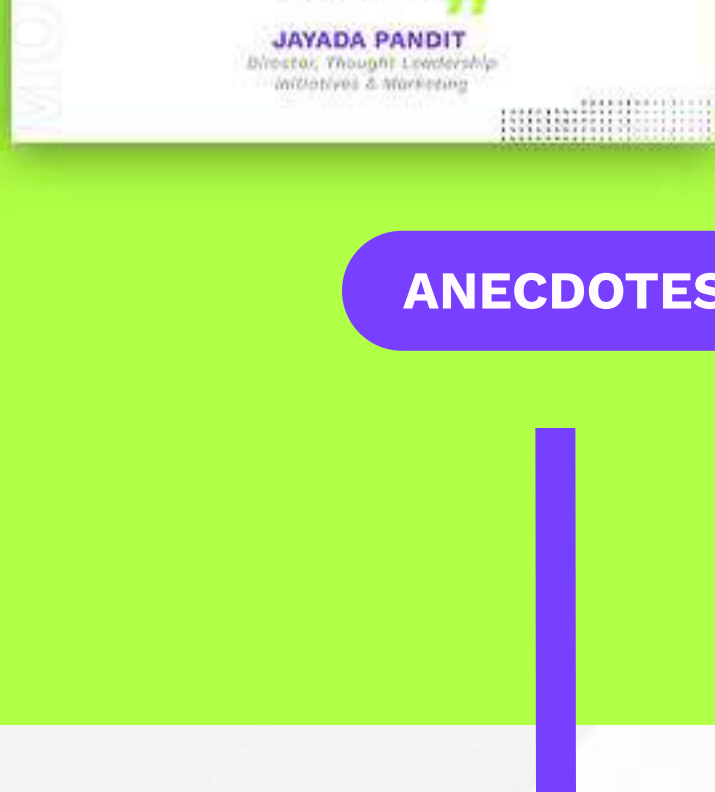

“My love for cars in my childhood, and my need to rebuild my life for financial independence to look after me and my son inspired me to pursue my passion and KPIT has never forced me to work extra hours or stopped me from taking my earned leaves. This is how I managed both work and home.”
ANJANA RAJAM
Software Architect

“Just like for all working moms, it is a continuous challenge to find the balance between family and work time. As KPI, I am very lucky to have a great team and a supportive manager. I also had the chance to work in different roles and projects and considered every single one of them as a challenge. As a parent you also need to focus on your development and personal accomplishments in order to inspire your children. In this case, happy mom - happy kids.”
CRISTIANA STOICHESCU
Delivery Director

STORIES FROM EUROPE

“Interestingly, it is thanks to my mother that I am in this industry today. KPIT has given me the much-needed flexibility that helped balance it all, at work and at home. After 10 years at KPIT, I can tell you, honestly, Women can certainly have it all... Maybe just not all at the same time!”
JAYADA PANDIT
Director, Thought Leadership, Initiatives & Marketing

“I have been in a leadership position for the last 15 years in KPIT in C&D function and must say that KPIT is an equal opportunity company. It has quality leadership and excellent culture in the workplace that has allowed me to perform at my best and build a fantastic team to work with.”
PRIYAMVADA HARDIKAR
Chief Financial Officer
